

Sally Dickinson

*Head of Information and Support Services
Nass*

Sally Dickinson is Head of Information and Support Services at NASS. She runs the Helpline for anyone who has questions about axial SpA. She has responsibility for all patient and member information produced by NASS including AS News, the patient guidebooks and all the axial SpA information on the website. Sally looks after the NASS network of branches across the UK and is currently working to develop a self-management programme.

